HOUSE# 11

A large, open floor plan frames this timeless design by noted Southern architect John Tee. One of Southern Living’s best selling architects, Tee custom-designed these homes for the Plein Air project. “These homes could be in any town across the South. They are timeless. Perfect for today, but look like they were built one hundred years ago.” A real wood-burning fireplace plus stainless steel and granite kitchens. Tall ceilings and tankless hot water heaters. Real wood shutters. Wood floors. Amazingly solid foundation. This house will stand the test of time.
